

Abstract of the Disclosure

A set of reflector extensions extends and retracts around a reflector in response to a signal quality sensor signal to a programmed control. A degraded satellite signal detected by the sensor activates a deployment mechanism to extend the reflector 5 extensions to extend a surface contour of the reflector to modify its gain performance.